

Wedding

ON THE CLIFFS OF SOUTH AFRICA

Last May, Sherry Kittle joined her husband Jim, her daughter Allie, their soon to be son-in-law Jordan Schworch, and several other members of the family on a very special journey to Singita Lebombo and Singita Boulders, two lodges located in Kruger National Park, South Africa!

This was not Sherry's first trip to South Africa—two years prior, she went on a similar trip with her daughter and son. It was during this original trip that Jim and Sherry's daughter Allie decided that when she was to be wed, it would be atop a cliff overlooking a breathtaking landscape of the river on the border between South Africa and Mozambique. Two years later, Allie was engaged to her fiancé Jordan, and it was time to make good on her dream.

The trip began on May 15th in London where Sherry, Jim, Allie, and Jordan stayed at the Goring Hotel, the very same hotel where Kate Middleton stayed prior to her royal wedding to Prince William. The family

